THE REAL NEWSPAPER.

The Police Gazette is a newspaper in the real sense of the word. It prints the news of the week, but eliminates the filth. It selects the events with due regard to their importance from a news standpoint, and presents them to its readers in entertaining and readable shape. In addition to printing the news, the Police Gazette illustrates it. In that respect it has the advantage of the daily newspapers. But it never publishes anything that could give offense to the most punctilious person. Of a necessity it prints the offenses committed against the laws of society and State by men and women, but then the Police Gazztte is a newspaper. It is needful for the public morals that the violators of the laws of man should be condemned and held up to public coors. that the violators of the laws of man should be condemned and held up to public scorn and ridicule. Were their offenses overlooked crime would become rampant, society rotten, and virtue would be at a premium. It is the fear of public condemnation that keeps many in the straight and narrow path. The electric light of the press holds them in check. If they sin in the dark and their offense is known only to themselves, they continue to pose before society as models of virtue. But on the other hand, if their crime is made known they are punished and society is benefited. It is not the function of the newspaper to excite the appetite for scandal, but to expose all frauds and shams with a view of correcting them. Such is the mission of the Police GAZETTE.

mission of the POLICE GAZETTE.
While many newspapers are ever on the alert to supply their readers with flith, the POLICE GAZETTE prints only such news as is good for the public health.

the public health.

A clergyman recently made the rounds of the houses of ill-fame in this city, and then described in court the disgusting scenes he witnessed. Such testimony was never before listened to in a court-room. It was shocking in the extreme; but some of the newspapers made capital out of it. For many days they were teeming with the disgusting details of the orgies described by the clergyman in question. orgies described by the elergyman in question. The POLICE GAZETTE, however, would not offend the nostrils of its millions of readers by printing the filthy stuff. It failed to see where any good could be gained by it. The public knew that these places existed, and the publication of the scenes enacted within their doors would not aid in the least the cause of moral reform. Rather it would tend to create a desire in the young to go and see for themselves. Therefore the POLICE GAZETTE refrained from making any mention of the affair, and many of making any mention of the affair, and many of its readers have expressed their approbation of Charley Reel, the comedian, contries to enjoy life as it passes, and one of his sources of enjoyment is that fund of nuctuoue humor which he possesses. Not long ago he was fu Providence, and while at breakfait in the hotel one morning he was amored by the attentions of a colored waiter who sought asselituously to scrape acquaintance with him. This negro, as good natured a creature as were carried at ray, made himself painfully buy about the table, rearrauging the dishes, brushing away crumbs and doing this thing and everything that could possibly serve as an excuse for bis presence.

A panse, during which the negro industriously rearranged the dishes on the table, was bruken finally by the negro's remarking. "Dat surpless me; I's shuah-yes, sah, I's slame's willin to awar I eeen yo' bout free mont's ago on der corner of Broadway an Twenty-third street."

"No." repeated Reed, "I have never been in New York in all my life."

but he continued to husy himself restranging the glaseware and crockery. Finally he abandousd all further puranit with a sigh. "Boss," said he, in a tone of hopelese resignation, 'bose, yo' done got me that time, shnahl".

I think that "Friends," a four act play by Milton Rayle, produced at the Standard, will be a success on the road. Some of the dialogue is bright, and the action is quick. There were individual hits. Edmind Lyons made a sensatiou as an opinm, whiskey-soaked sot. John Giendening was artistic, as ueusl, as the vilain. Theodore Hamilton played a crusty old factor to perfection. Rayle did remarkably well in a part designed for Henley. But Selous Fetter, the leading hady, didn't come up to expectations as the prima donna. Miss Fetter, unfortunately, has a face that does not cuit sympathetic roles. Sie always seems to be dietoring her physiognomy, as though the recipism of a disagreeable odor. Joe Lannon Defeated in Four Rounds by Geo. Godfrey.

ONE - SIDED FIGHT.

John L. Sullivan's Old Boxing Partner was Outclassed.

A CRY OF FOUL RAISED.

But it Did Not Save Lannon from Defeat.

HOW THE BATTLE WAS WON.

The fistic encounter between Joe Lannon, of Bos ton, Mass., and George Godfrey, the colored heavyweight champion of New England, for a purse of $3,000 offered by the Coney Island Athletic Club. was decided before that club on May 16. The fight was witnessed by about 3,000 spectators. The fight wsa well contested and desperate, lasting four rounds

It was not their first encounter in the prize ring, for Lannon and Godfrey met in Boston, Maes., on Feb. 4, 1889, for a puree of $1,000. The battle wachimited to fifteen rounds and it ended in a draw. Since that battle Lannon was heaten by Jack Ashton in 18 rounds lasting 1 hour 11 minutes, and Godfrey fefacted Ashton in 14 rounds 55 minutee, the same year that Ashton defeated Lannon. The latter did not engage in any battles in 1890, while Godfrey's only battle in that year was with Ed. Smith, of Denver, Col., whom he defeated at Hooken, N. J., on Nov. 25, 1890, in 23 rounds, lasting 1 hour and 31 minutes. Godfrey's last battle was with Jack Elirain for a purse of $5,000, and was fought in the California Club, San

Round 1 — Godfrey's position was the hest when they faced each other and he had a smile on his countestance as if confident of winnin. Lanuou appeared anxious and watched Godfrey's tactics with cousiedrable anxiety. Godfrey opened the ball by landing his left heavily on Lanuon's mouth and the force of the blow draw the claret which Lanuon tried to suck in, for it was evident that his lip had been cut. Lanuon appeared surprised at the blow and at ouce rushed at Godfrey and planted his left heavily ou the colored champion's neck. Sharp exchanges followed, and both men cleverly countered, dodfrey on the face and Lanuon on the body. Lanuon then clinched. Godfrey and peppered away at the colored boxer's ribs while Godfrey and peppered away at the colored boxer's ribs while Godfrey clevely dobled his hlows and landed a straight left hander on Lanuon's nose and following it up with a red-bot right-hander on the neck. Like an entraged hon Lanuon went at Godfrey stomach. Godfrey appeared a little nouplinssed and whiled from the blow, and then he fought Lanuon's mouth. Godfrey out-fought Lanuon, upper cutting while grow the ring until the latter clinched. Godfrey broke away and landed a terriho left-haud blow on Lannon's long for the low, and then he fought Lanuon's mouth. Godfrey for Lanuon staggered time and away and landed a terriho left-haud blow on Lannon's hand on Lannon's jaw. Lanuon countered on God-frey's stomach and trying to avoid a return fell to the ground with a thinl. He quickly gained his feet and rushed at Godfrey, landing his left on the latter's Lannon had no sooner reached the scratch than his left shot out with great force and landed on Godfrey's stomach. Godfrey landed two hlows in quick succession on Lannon's face, and then he latter's left went with smashing, force on Godfrey's right eye. Both men then etood up and exchanged blow for blow, and the fighting was even. "You have got him, Joe," abouted Mahoney, and Lannon cut the pace doing good and effective work on Godfrey's body, until the latter sent his left crashing against Linnon'e nose. Lannon boldly faced bis appopenent and missed a left-hander and then a right-hand swing, but Godfrey, as quick as a flash, landed his left on Lannon's right eye, and massed a swinging blow at the head. Desperate fighting followed, and Lannon had a slight lead when the round ended. Lannon showed the effects of heavy punichment, and Godfrey also appeared to suffer from the terrific body blowe he had received. It was, at the stage, any-body'efight, but Godfrey appeared to have the hest frey's blows. Lannon knew he was heaten but he would not give iu. He rushed wildly at Godfrey now sud again lauding a blow while Godfrey watched his every movement to land the auctioneer. Every time Godfrey would come to close quarters Launon would clinic and continue to drive his left into Godfrey's stomach, but the latter always returned the compliment. This round was decided in favor of Godfrey. Kovin & Godfrey, by the sdivice of his seconds, now forced the pace. He rushed at Lannon when the gong rang, planting hie left on his opponent's right jaw, and got in a tremeudous right-hander on the neck. Lanuon fought wild and few of his blows lamiled. When they did reach the mark they lacked force. Godfrey kept the top spinning and forced the fightling. Twice he brought his right across, and the latture it eeu Lanuon staggering. Lanuon rueshed at Godfrey, and the latter knocked him down hy a right-hand cross-counter. Lanuon lay on the ground for a secoud and his seconds squirted water over him. The epray revived him, and he got on to his feet just before the gong was ready to roug him out. He elaggered towards Godfrey, who landed his left on bie damaged mouth and drove him against the ropes. Lannon elloged like a drunken man and supported himself on the ropes, while Godfrey was highting hard to estite him. Lannou made a desperate effort but his lows lacked force, and every minute he was growing waster. Finally he clinched and Godfrey struggled blows and Godfrey again staggered Lannon by a hlow on the jaw with he right. Cries of foul were heard from all parts of the ball and Al Smith, the referce, put up his hand to the crowd as much as to say "No foul." Both men weut to their corners, Godfrey aparently fresh and Launon staggering like a guiboat in a storm.

coance or winning, for Lannon was slow as a coach, parenty frein and Launon staggering like a guitous while his opponent was on the alert to take advantage of every opening.

ROUND 3—Godfrey was first to the scratch when the gong sounded, and he cut loose hy landing his left corner. Billy Maloney rushed over to the referee and clsimed a foul hecause Godfrey bit Lannon after the gong had sounded. Al Smith claimed that Lannou had also struck Godfrey, and that both were fighting when he separated them.

Godfrey still stood at the scratch ready to continue the fight, but Lannou was not a hie to fight any longer, although his seconds were trying to make the public helieve he was. After Al Smith ordered Barnett and Mahouey to send their man to the scratch, which they refused, the referce said: "Well. I dclare Godfrey the winner."
The referee's decision was a just one. Lannou was the winner."

The referee's decision was a just one. Lannon was outconditioned and outclassed. Godfrey proved ho was a clever two-banded highter and the best man, pugilistically.

not to do so. We arranged matters and I forgave my wite.

"Later, when at ludianapolis, I received a telegram from her stating that she had been shot and expected to die. I wired the Chicago authorities to arrest a man named Lane, who I thought had done the deed, hut when I arrived home I found that she had never been abot. On my last trip I received letters from several of the neighbors stating that it would be well for me to come home and see the way my wife was acting; that I would hetter remove my daughter. I investigated and found out the story was true and when I reached here I found my wife with this man Lane. I took the child and have placed her ln good hands, and while attempting to get her clothes see had mear-reated. I have applied for a divorce on the grounds of adultery."

THE MURDER OF MARY WERTHEIMER'S BABY.
[Subject of Illipstantion]

Mary Wertheimer, a seventeen year-old girl, unmarried and living in Brooklyn, N. Y. had a baby three months old which was a burden to its mother. Mary, young Adam Hass and Peter Schultz, both of whom ahe had been intimate with, decided that the child must be got rid of, and the night of May 2 the two men took it from its mother's breast and started for Newtown creek. On the way the infant creed, and Schultz, who was carrying it, attempted to choke the child, while Hass tied his handkernerher around its neck. Arriving at the creek, the two men tied a stone to the child's throat and held it under the water until they thought it dead, but as they were about to bury the infant the little thing showed signs of life. This, however, did not prevent the men from carrying out their heliesh work, for they dure a hole in the mud and huried tho child while yet alive. After several days' earch the police found the body where it was bursed by the two bruter. They, with the girl, Mary Wertheimer, were arrested. While in yail the two man to other, came to hlows, and would perhaps have done serious injury had they not been separated. Hass places the responsibility of the child's death on Schultz. He began to like the girl through the letters he had read, and this feeling soon ripened into love.

Two weeks ago the cergeant received a letter from his brother announcing the death of their saster Lizzie, and asking blin for money to help defray the funeral expensea. Upon receiving this the sergeaut concluded to ask for leave of a heence. It would give him the opportunity to see the beantiful bean, whom he had learned to love so far away.

On Saturday he arrived and went atraight to his old home. He said nothing of his love for the kirl, but He rang the bell of the place and asked for Lena Taylor. He was unhered into the parlor and the girl was called. Even then it is not believed that the sergeant realized the character of the establishment.

The girl's scanty costume may have struck him as strange, but he was binnied by love and did not pause to consider. It was the first time he had met his charmer, and he was completely faceinated by her pretty-face and hively manner. Sie invited the sergeant to go np stairs, and he, still innocent, went.

HER YOUNG LIFE RUINED.

Romance of Christie Jackson, of Sharon Springs, N.Y.

ELOPED WITH A RASCAL.

A 15-Year-Old Induced to Steal and Run Away.

BOTH CAUGHT IN CHICAGO.

A pretty fifteen-year-old girl lay sophing bitterly in a room in the Poltner House, Chicago, on May 10, almost meane at the realization of the crime to which she had been an accessory as well as a victim. She was Christie Jackson, of Sharon Springs, N. Y. In an adjouring room, under arrest, was Louis Morcotte, aged twenty-one years, of Brookiyu, with whom the girl had eloped.

aged twenty-one years, of Brookiyu, with whom the girl had eloped.

It was a sud romance. The girl's life had been re-ined, and the young man will probably go to the peni-tentlary for a long time.

Both had been arrested after a chase of two weeks by Deputy Sheriff S. F. Black, of Binghamton, who-held them awaiting instructions from the girl and ents. The young people were bound living together at the Central Hotel on Clark street, the funds, amount ing to $5,000, it is believed, which the girl had taken from her mother under the influence of her lover, ing to $5.000, it is believed, which the girl had taken from her mother under the influence of her lover, having been exhausted.

Two weeks areo the Hon, E. A. Jackson of Sharon Springs, N. Y. accompanied his wife to the wedding of a friend and their took the same train with the hridal party to Albany, where, as a driegate, he was to attend the Republician State Convention.

On Mrs. Jackson's return to her home everything indicated the flight of her dainghter. The day of the weiding and of the father's departure for Albany had been selected in mixance by the men who were bent c. it hedainghier's abilicition and ruin.

These men were Louis Marentte, who had been visiting his granifather in the town, and George Hoffman, the son of a carpenier in Sharon Springs. Marcotto seemed to have something of a hyponion faschation for her, and, after secretly associating with him for some time, she agreed to take from her parents enough to carry out his plans, the horrible nature of which it is not believed ahe fully realized.

A girl companion. Tereas Smith, daighter of the leading clertyman of the town, had been persuaded to ruin away with Hoffman at the same time, it is believed. She did not do so, however. Hoffman nevertheless decided to accompany the others, the large amount taken by Misa Jackson making him unwilling amoint typen of a sas ascessor making him adwining to lose his shate.

They took the train to Syracuse, and later arrived at Detroit. Here a dispute as to which of the two men had the better right to the young girl led Hoffman to take the most of what remained of the stolen money and return to New York, where he was arrested.

The distracted father caused the whole State to be searched for his daughter, but his influence kept the distract to his family from the general public. In less than two weeks he spent a large sum on the search, the fruitless character of which almost killed both parents of the unfortunate art.

The arrest of Hoffman, however, led to the fact that the other two were headed toward Cheago, where they expected to stay at the Palmer House under the name of Cheagon.

f Carpenter. Sheriff Black, a personal friend of Mr. Jackson, was at once authorized to go to Chicago. He found the pair on May 9, and on the following day a dispatch ordered him to return, and in the afternoon be took his prisoners castward.

The oblidush-hobing, 15-year-old girl is in so pitifully a broken down condition after her experience of but two weeks with her young abductor as to be almost nurcenginzable.

The father has expressed a determination to secure the extreme penalty of the law upon the ruiner of his happiness, but it is feared by many that the fory of Christin's brother, who has also been engaged in the pursuit, will not await the slow process of the law, and that another crime may blot out those of his sister that another crime may blot out those of his sister and her companions.

MUSCLES HIGHLY DEVELOPED.

During the past three decades there have been many women who have gained great farme and renown by their exploits as gymnasts. In the sixtles Lens Daria lady of splendid physical development, created plant of a sensetion by her wonterful feats in the gymnastic line. Mile. Lola was another female whose love for athletics rathed her considerable notoriety and plenly of wealth. One of her feats was swinging from the gallery of a theair grasping two ropes bluntfolded to a trapize suspended over the stage, letting go the Giant Swing, and Lola claimed she was the first femile to a compiles the feat. At Frederickstown, New Brunswick, she fell sixty feet in attempting the feat and dislocated her shoulder. Lola now manages the Earl family, who are playing in the West.

One of the present sensations in the female line of athletics is Mile. Eva Bertoldi, a young lady who has barely turned fifteen. She is a native of Sheffield, Eng. Bertoldi splaying with the Howard Atheumi Specialty Cumpany, and her wonderful performances are creating quite a sensation.

No less authority that the celebrated Dr. Agnew, of Philadelphia, requested the privilege of examining Bertoldi. He found her perfectly proportioned, with muscles developed to a proper degree, and with the best chest and linurs he had ever seen. As an example of her wonderful hand halanoing, abe is said to go in pain down ladders on her hands, her body thrown up into the air. She travels accompanied by thrown up into the air. She travels accompanied by the father and mother, who, through their patience and skill in rearing and training their children, are chabled to take life confortable and with little or no labor. Bertoldi's special feats cousist of hand balancing, which necessitates several controlius of the body, and show off Bertoldis fine physical development. Bertoldi walks on her hands, forms a how with her head down and reversed.

Dertoldi's father was a gymnast and trainer of animals ever since his early life, and box hero under curgacement to such noted circus proprietors as Sauger, Myers and Henghir all the time. His wife performed with the animals trained by her hisband. A sister two years obler than Bertoldi, named Mile. Volunce who is now fulfilling an ongagement at the Folio Be-gere, Paris, was first trained by the father, who known in the circus profession as Prof. Clayton. As

TALK ABOUT THE FIGHTERS.

The Proposed Match Between Fitzsimmons and Pritchard.

THE PLIMMER-KELLY BATTLE.

Ted Pritchard, the present champion of England, has been very successful since he entered the prize ring. He has defeated every man he has been prited against, but the clease of puglites he have viewed by the categories of Jack Burks, the Irish Lad, and Jem Smith, the English heavy weight champion, has lower time anything writing of priste Burks, when Pritchard men bim, was stale. He had buffeld through England, engaged in numerous contests with varied ancess in America, while in Australia he was easily defeated by Slavio.

Alf Mitchell, another puglish Pritchard defeated, could not be considered a Gard-cleas rink huse, while Jem Smith

All Millonell, another puglish Fritchard defeated, could not be comidered a drate-least risk hues, while Jem Smith was only a punching bay for Jake Kirsin, Frank P. Slavin and Pater Jackeen. Smith fought Elirain a draw, but the Eug-lish champion never was the same puglish afterward. Shavin bad him beaten in seven remains simple in about filten minutes, when Smith's cruwd would not be him eetite the Englishman. Jackeen defound of some thin by a fine before they had build filten minutes, while Principard pullshed off Smith in quick time.

fifteen minutes, while Princhard polished off Smith in quick time.

Pritchard's fight with Smith is the only line that me can gauge the Significant points record by, and then it must be allowed that Smith, when he me! Princhard, was mit he gladistor he was in December, 18st, when he fought Kirzdin. Followers of the prize ring in 18st classed Smith as a secural Tun Sayrer, but there was in mucin difference between 8 sayers, the English champlen pushlist of 1800, and Smith, the English champlen pushlist of 1800, and Smith, the English champlen pish in 18st, as there is between an irrordad war vessel and a wooden one. Elizah was superire in every way in Smith, buth initing, wrestling and generalisity, but in lacked one principal thing that true bern puglists, especially those who appre to be champlens, must possess, that is, aggressences. If Kirsah had possessed enough of the building do-irr-ille style of ferocity, Smith would have been highn like a dying gladistor long or darkness came in on that now instorted battle field in France, on Dec. 18, 1830. darkness came in on Dec. 19, 1887.

Pritchard is now matched with Jack O'Brien, as Wesh pagitin, whose smitted as with an advert the componently, whose smitted as with one francisco with me, and then the only barries base ween thin and the champbountly in the world will be Bob Fitzsammen.

It is now doubtful whether Ted Pritchard and Bob Fitzsammen, and the standard and the fitzsammen will faith the Oympic Cinb. New Orleans, in Sept 6, as previously arranged. Jimmy Carroli injuest to Fitzsammen senting Pritchard because the latter is already matched to fight Jack O'Brien in the Nathmal Cinb, London, the claims that if O'Brien was beaten by Fitchard of course everything connected with the match would go int, but on the alone as the proposed contest would have to be abandoned, and Fitzsimmens would lose but the match muses, as no guarantee is atipulated in the spreament that if the men do muse the $1,000 deposited with the club should be puid to the boxer willing to fight.

welcome to him as a driuk to a thirsty man, as a lighthouse on a dark stormy night cheers the hardy mariner; as a light shining through the forest in the darkness is a welcome such to the lonely traveler; so words of praise from a pleased advertiser or subscriber come like nectar from the gods to cheer the weary publisher on his course through life. They are a sign to him that he is appreciated; that his efforts to aucceed are being noticed; that people think his paper is worth taking about. The following letter is amongst the latest received:
